WANTS HER ALIMONY.

The Smith Divorce Case Again in Court.

A Receiver Appointed in the Alexander Failure Case, and the Assignment Fully Ventilated—A Petty Larcenist.

In the Third district court yesterday the suit of Emma Smith vs. Charles Smith to enforce a judgment obtained for alimony of $1,000 in the circuit court of Arapahoe county, Col., was tried before Judge Zane and a jury.

The original suit for divorce was filed more than a year ago in Denver and tried there. A decree was granted the plaintiff, she proving her husband guilty of more cruel and vile conduct than can be charged up to the usual run of defendants in divorce cases. A judgment was also rendered against Smith for $1,000 alimony and $250 attorneys fees. The latter he paid but Mrs. Smith never got sight of any of her former husband's coin according to her story told yesterday.

The jury was given the case at 5 o'clock and will return a verdict into court this morning. The defendant is the well known huckster who lived in Salt Lake for nearly twenty years, removing to Denver in 1880. He recently returned to this city and was followed by his wife.

A sympathetic tear over the woes of Florence Dombey or at the death of Col. Newcombe. What better sight can there be to fight with Ivanhoe at the tournament again, or to follow Jennie Dams to the foot of the King?

Hark, the wind is rattling at the door again and the wind is still falling on the roof and the policeman's whistle grows fainter in the distance. But we hear not, for we are young again and are borne far away on the pinwheel of a land where there are heroes and heroines and virtue has its reward and vice its punishment and the voices of the winter night are nothing to us.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

CARDINAL GIBBONS.

He Will Preside at the Annual Conclave of Catholics.

Cardinal Gibbons, who will preside at the annual meeting of archbishops in New York, from Nov. 16th to 21st, is a comparatively young man, being still under sixty. He is a marvelous orator, of splendid executive ability and a writer of great force. His "Faith of Our Fathers" has reached a circulation of a quarter of a million.

The conclave will gather at the archiepiscopal. The death of Kenrick, of St. Louis, leaves only twelve American representatives, Monsignor Satali, the papal representative, making the thirteenth.

Although the meetings are secret, the problems discussed this year will no doubt be the school question, the question of permitted secret societies, and possibly the establishment of a consistory court to settle minor disputes in the church.

The school question will no doubt be given the greatest attention. Archbishop Ireland, of course, takes the liberal side, and Archbishop Corrigan the other. Cardinal is said to incline toward the former, and the priesthood and the people toward the latter.

In regard to secret societies, those of the "Sons of Temperance" and the "Odd Fellows" will probably be placed under the ban of the church.

Every testimonial regarding Hood's Sarsaparilla is an honest unvarnished statement of what this medicine has actually done.

GOING DOWN THE HILL.
Old Age Creeping on Shows Itself in Lack of Eyes and Trembling Hands—Many who are old in Years Are Vigorous and Healthy—How such a Condition May Be Accompanied by All.

How many elderly men and women we see who plainly show they are "going down the hill." The trembling hand, the uncertain step, the lack of brightness in the eye, the shrunken features, all indicate that life is not at high tide, that the strength and vital forces are not what they once were, and in fact, that they are going down the hill. This, of course, is to be expected, for when one reaches later years, his vitality is sure to come, but how many elderly people we see who are healthy, happy and comparatively vigorous. They always seem cheerful, bright, contented. They should not all be equally fortunate. It certainly is possible. Every elderly man and woman needs to take some pure stimulant regularly. Every doctor in the land admits this, and its common sense must be manifest to all. It should not be understood, however, that any ordinary stimulant would be recommended. It must be something pure, powerful, health-giving and strength-imparting. Such a stimulant can be found only in Duffy's Pure Malt Whisky. It is the only medicinal whisky in the market. Its wonderful popularity is due entirely to its power and what it has accomplished. Any elderly man or woman through its use may certainly preserve the health, and may reasonably expect to prolong the life. Do not be induced, however, by any inferior article or article which the druggist or grocer may seek to put in its place. There is nothing which can accomplish the same object.

A GREAT LITERARY BARGAIN!
Cooper's Famous Romances of the American Forest!
An Entirely New Edition of

THE LEATHERSTOCKING TALES,
By JAMES FENIMORE COOPER.

The first and greatest of American romances was James Fenimore Cooper. "His popularity," says a writer in the Century Magazine, "was cosmopolitan. He was almost as widely read in France as in America. Only one American book has ever since attained the international success of those of Cooper's—Uncle Tom's Cabin." and only one American author, Poe, has since gained a name as all commensurate with Cooper's. The great author is dead, but his charming romances still live to delight new generations of readers. "The wind of the lake and the prairie has not lost its talisman and the tale of the man keeps its power," says the same writer above quoted. "Beautiful indeed are Cooper's stories of the red man and the pioneer, full of incident, intensely interesting, abounding in adventure, yet pure, elevating, manly, and entirely devoid of all the objectionable features of the modern Indian story. No reading could be more wholesome for young or old than Cooper's romances. It is entirely new edition of the Leatherstocking Tales has just been published, in six large and handsome volumes of over three hundred large quarto pages, containing all of these famous romances, complete, unaltered and uncondensed, viz:

THE DEERSLAYER, THE PATHFINDER, THE LAST OF THE MOHICANS, THE PIONEERS, THE PAIRIE.
This handsome edition of the Leatherstocking Tales is printed upon good paper from large type. It is a delightful book, and one which should have a place in every American home. It contains five of the most charming romances that the mind of man has ever conceived. A whole volume's reading is completed in this mammoth volume. All who have not read Cooper's stories are with them. We have made an arrangement with the publisher of this excellent edition of the Leatherstocking Tales whereby we are enabled to offer this large and beautiful book almost as a free gift to our subscribers. Such an offer as we make would have been possible a few years ago, but the lightning printing press, the price of paper and great competition in the book trade have done wonders for the reading public. It is in the most carefree of all.
